Shockley was later released from the county jail after a charge of intrusion on the property of another was filed against him.

COTTERAL TURNS DEAF EAR WHEN WALTON APPEALS

Federal Court Refuses Role in Walton Affair in Oklahoma.

WITHOUT JURISDICTION

Senate Court Continues in Home Cleanup; Sigler in Glare Now.

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 21.—The application of J. C. Walton, deposed governor, for a restraining order to set aside the verdict of the senate court of impeachment by which he was removed from office was dismissed today by Judge John H. Cotteral in United States district court here. Walton announced an appeal to the United States supreme court.

The dismissal was upon a motion by George Short, attorney general. As in the previous hearing at Lawton the day before the former governor's impeachment trial opened, Judge Cotteral ruled that his court did not have jurisdiction in the case.

The costs of the federal action was assessed against Walton.

Formal notice of appeal will be filed at 3 p. m. today.

In dismissing the former executive's action Judge Cotteral said: "The ruling was made at the hearing recently in Lawton that the court did not have jurisdiction. It is only necessary to say now that the court is of the same opinion. The motion to dismiss the original bill of complaint and supplementary will be sustained."

The deposed executive sought a retroactive injunction to set aside the action of the senate court and restore him to office on the grounds that he was denied the right to a fair trial to which he was entitled under the federal constitution.

He charged that a majority of the members of the court were Ku Klux Klansmen acted in furtherance of a conspiracy between the Klan and the state legislature to remove him from office.

Legislature Still Working
Meanwhile, the state legislature prepared to go ahead this afternoon with plans for a general "clean-up" of the administration and to consider an early date anti-klan legislation for which purpose the special session was called by Governor Walton.

The board of managers of the lower house which prosecuted Walton, expected to file in the house when it meets this afternoon a bill of impeachment against Charles H. Ruth, supreme court commissioner, and intimate friend of the deposed governor.

He will be charged, according to the board's announcement, with trafficking in acts of executive clemency. In this connection it was recalled that one of the articles upon which Walton was tried charged that he abused his pardon and parole powers in order to provide lucrative fees for his friends and political supporters.

A similar allegation will form the basis for a resolution to expel Guy H. Sigler of Carter county, which will be presented to the house either today or tomorrow, the board announced. It was added that he has been accused of collecting large fees for numerous acts of executive clemency which he obtained through his official influence.

LEADERS OF 11,000,000 ORGANIZED WOMEN URGE OBSERVANCE OF GOLDEN RULE DAY

LEADERS of National Women's organizations, representing approximately 11,000,000 organized American women, in a recent session in New York City endorsed the idea of an International Golden Rule Day to be observed all over the world on Sunday, December 2nd, with the object of providing food for the orphans of the Near East, and issued an appeal to the women of the nation to help make the day a success.

The Resolutions Committee, consisting of Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Mrs. Thomas G. Winter and Miss Mary Emma Woolley, presented the following resolution which was unanimously adopted:

"RESOLVED, That the Woman's Committee on Near East Relief, pledge its active co-operation to the observance of International Golden Rule Sunday, December 2nd, as a day of self-denial for the purpose of aiding the 1,000,000 orphans now removed from the jurisdiction of the Turkish Government and under the protection of the Near East Relief.

"RESOLVED, further, that we will urge the co-operation of all women's organizations throughout the country in the observance of this day."

The idea of International Golden Rule Day was originated by the International Near East Association in session at Geneva, Switzerland, last summer as a means of uniting the whole Christian thinking world in the work of caring for and feeding the nationless orphans in the Near East. Families in fourteen different nations will observe the day simultaneously by foregoing their usual more or less elaborate Sunday dinner and eating instead a meal approximately the same as that served every day in the Near East Relief orphanages, and contributing the difference in the cost of the two menus to the support of the orphans.

In America the movement is sponsored by the Near East Relief and in other nations by similar organizations and societies working towards the same ends. Details of the correct sort of food to be served for Golden Rule Day dinner and other information concerning it can be had by writing to the National Headquarters of the Near East Relief, 151 Fifth Avenue, New York City, or to the nearest state office.

Many prominent European women, including the Queen of Greece, Baroness Schaffalitzky of Denmark, Baroness Sigrid Kurck of Sweden, and Miss Alice Masaryk, daughter of the President of Czechoslovakia, have pledged themselves to observe Golden Rule Day and to further its wide observance in their own countries.

Besides Mrs. Pennybacker as Chairman, other members of the Committee, shown in the picture above, who appeal for the support of their various organizations in making Golden Rule Day a success, are Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Honorary President of the International Suffrage Alliance; Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, President of the General Federation of Women's Clubs and a member of the Advisory Board of the Conference on Disarmament; Miss Mary Emma Woolley, President of Mount Holyoke College; Mrs. Elsie Lines Chapin, former Most Virtuous Grand Matron of the Eastern Star; Mrs. Livingston Rowe Schuyler, National President of the United Daughters of the Confederacy; Mrs. Ella A. ### THE FORUM LITERARY SOCIETY

A very commendable program was given Monday night by the Forum Literary Society. Most of the active members were present and also several visitors. The program consisted of the following numbers:

Song by Assembly.
Scripture Reading—Chaplain.
Talk "The Prisoner as a Public Servant"—Wade Bartlett.
Vocal Solo—Mr. Harris.
Talk "The Cause of Earthquakes"—Mrs. Culbertson.
Duet—Hilda Fossard, True Emerson.
Surprise Party—L. A. S.
Round Table Discussions—Assembly.

In a short business session after the program the following officers were elected to take the place of those who left at the end of the first term: Vice-president, Mr. Culbertson; secretary, Miss Laird; Vice-secretary, Miss Boren.

The most noticeable characteristic of the program was the response to a round table discussion of recent events. Every member of the forum found it possible to make a short talk upon some topic. This spirit of responding to a call to talk at short notice is being displayed in a more pleasing manner than ever before in the history of the Forum Literary Society. It is this spirit intermingled with the native ability that is making a success of this year's Forum, and is aiding the Forum to surpass the accomplishment of previous years.

The spice of the program was a surprise party prepared by Misses Hester and Miss Evans consisting of refreshments for the society. After refreshments had been served the meeting was adjourned.

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

TO MAKE UP OR NOT TO MAKE UP

An article in "The Woman Citizen" of some time ago discussed the matter of magazine advertising on the subject of make-up. The claim was made that advertisers, in order to sell their wares, incline to make young women think that the use of cosmetics is essential to a good appearance. "The Woman Citizen" goes on to say:

"Good looks are an undoubted asset in the business of life. The obligation is on every woman to be dainty and wholesome in her physical body and as becomingly and fittingly attired as her taste and purse allow. To this end soap, cold cream, lotions and powder have their place. No one can have any objection to the honest advertising of their use. Undoubtedly more faces are washed with soap today and the skin kept healthier by frequent bathing because of advertising.

"Even make-up has its rightful place. Behind the footlights it is used to make one look natural under the artificial light. If it is

"THE CRUSADER" WITH WM. RUSSELL COMING

In "The Crusader," a William Fox photoplay which will begin a run at the American Theatre today, William Russell is starred in the role of a young prospector. Many of the scenes were taken in the famed Cobalt mining district.

The story is by Alan Sullivan. It was directed by Howard M. Mitchell, who is one of the leading directors of the Fox forces. The popular Fox star is supported by Helen Ferguson, Fritz Brunette, George Webb, Carl Gantvoort, Gertrude Claire, Fred Kohler and Ralph Cloinger.

The young miner lives on a farm, but his heart is in the city. His sweetheart tells him she is leaving for the big town. Nothing his disappointment, his mother advises him on the farm. He goes to the realizing that there is no chance for him on the farm. He goes to the Cobalt mining district and becomes successful. An interesting love story is woven in the picture.

"The Crusader" is declared to be one of the best vehicles Russell has had.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY
PRAYER FOR TODAY: O Lord God, I pray thee, send me good speed this day.—Genesis 24:12.

WHY NOT CALL THE QUIET MEN?
The call is for more Cleverlands. Blow off the dust of the years and scan the work of Grover Cleveland as Sheriff of Erie county, New York, as mayor of Buffalo, as governor of his state, as president of the United States. In each case it was a reform party that put him in office; in each instance it was the party leaders and the voters who prevailed upon him to let his name go upon the ballots; in no circumstances did he do his own campaigning. Grover Cleveland was capable, keen, indefatigable, and honest. His record was one of consistency and unflinching success. In every election that he won, his majority was of theretofore unprecedented dimensions.

Grover Cleveland smashed ring power, political debauchery, corrupt practices and misapplication of public funds in his city, county and state. Inside the first six months of his tenure of office as mayor he saved his city more than $1,000,000 in contemplated contract grafts—and that was big money in those days.

Here is what this true patriot said, among other things, at his inauguration as mayor:

"We hold the money of the people in our hands, to be used for their purposes and to further their interests as members of the municipality, and it is quite apparent that when any part of the funds which taxpayers have thus intrusted to us are diverted to other purposes, or when by design or neglect we allow a greater sum to be applied to any municipal purpose than is necessary, we have to all purposes violated our duty. There is surely no difference in his duties and obligations whether a person is intrusted with the money of one man or many. And yet it sometimes appears as though the office-holder assumes that a different rule of fidelity prevails between him and the taxpayers than that which should regulate his conduct when, as an individual, he holds the money of his neighbor."

Grover Cleveland was fearless and frank in the vetoing of bills that were unjust, and in the forwarding of measures that would simplify government and reduce taxes.

We have men of the type of Grover Cleveland today. They are all about us, immersed in the faithful, unpretentious conduct of their own private enterprises—like Cleveland, men of modesty, unaccustomed to pushing themselves into the limelight. They are the ones who should be drafted for the public service. Must we confess that we of 1923 are more easily bamboozled than the citizens of the '80s? Must we acknowledge that we like to be fooled, that we are fond of false tinsel, that we prefer the glitter to the gold? Must we admit that we are tamed by the blatant whinnings of demagogues? Why not call forth in every county, every municipality, every state, the quiet men of power who, like Cleveland, hold in themselves potentialities that belong to a free and aggressive people?—Farm and Ranch.

In advocating tax reduction on one hand and promising a soldiers' bonus on the other the Republicans are finding themselves in the middle of a bad fix. Reminds one of the story of the politician who in a speech delivered to a gathering just outside the walls of an insane hospital. He had just finished telling the farmers of his audience that they were not getting enough for their products, a condition he would remedy if elected to office. He then assured the other elements of his hearers that they were having to pay too much for what they had to buy to eat and he would also attend to that. An inmate who had been listening from the inside interrupted him at this point, telling him that he had better come inside where he belonged.

It is reported that widespread suffering among the people of Germany is in prospect for the coming winter. It is another case of the people paying for the thick needledness and blundering stupidity of politicians at the head of the government. The German government spent enough on passive resistance to the French in the Ruhr to have paid an installment or two on the reparations and at the same time keep industries going at a rate that would have provided the people of the nation with food.

Wildslaw Wroblewski, Polish minister to the United States, defines "Americanization" as meaning "a program of preparation of the inhabitants of this republic, to become American citizens, fully alive to their national duties, as well as to their privileges." We want to most earnestly recommend this definition of just what Americanization means to the people of this city and community. We think this encompasses all that is expected of the American citizen. When the citizen takes an active interest in performing the duties of citizenship, they will more fully appreciate the privileges of citizenship. This is one of the foundation stones of our nation and is only second in importance to the American policy of free speech, free press and absolute religious liberty.—Okmulgee Democrat.

If Governor Trapp could find a market for all the unasked for advice given during the next month or two he would find himself several times a millionaire.

AN IDYL OF THE HUNTING SEASON

Research Institute puts Criticism Blame on Work Of Church in Indiana

(By the Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Low standards of spiritual literacy exist among Protestants all over the state of Indiana, according to the report of the Indiana Survey of Religious Education, the first volume of which, entitled "The Religious Education of Protestants in an American Commonwealth," has just been published under the auspices of the Institute of Social and Religious Research, formerly the Committee on Social and Religious Surveys of this city.

Many church buildings in Indiana subject their congregations weekly to fire hazards which the civil authorities ought not to permit; the township or district supervisors of local Protestant Sunday schools are inexperienced and untrained; the supervisory machinery throughout the state is inoperative most of the time; the Sunday school teachers as a class are untrained and "the unmistakable marks of pedagogical 'quackery' are observable," the report says.

But it is plainly indicated that no other state dare point the finger of scorn at Indiana on account of the conditions shown by the survey to exist there, that state having been chosen as the field for this exhaustive study of moral and religious conditions because it was regarded by experts in religious education as the most typical American state.

"The lack of coordination within the denomination and of the denomination with the general movement for religious education," says the report, "is the most outstanding weakness revealed by the survey of denominational Sunday school agencies. Not a denomination was found which had unified its various boards into a single religious educational leadership, to its own satisfaction. And the survey failed to reveal a denomination which had satisfactorily related itself to the general Sunday school movement. As a result of this failure of coordination, there is overwhelming evidence of friction, wastefulness and inefficiency."

The survey, which was completed at a cost of $100,000, shows that of the 2,835,492 people in the state 275,914 are Catholic; 25,833 are Jewish; 5,670 belong to other non-Protestant faiths; 793,938 are members of Protestant churches, and 61 percent of the entire population, or 1,734,137, are not members of any church.

Of the children and youth under 25 years of age, 137,940 are Catholic; 12,650 are Jewish; 2,820 belong to families of other non-Protestant faiths; 486,140 are Protestant and 749,840 are nominally Protestant but not identified with any church. There are 615,150 children in Sunday school, parochial schools, or other religious schools, and 551,590 children nominally Protestant, who are not receiving moral or religious instruction under the direction of any religious body.

The Protestant churches of Indiana provide only 24 hours of religious instruction annually for their children, and the children who are enrolled are absent every other Sunday. Of every four children enrolled in Sunday school at 12 years of age, three drop out before they reach the age of 18 years.

"The professional training of the

"In Indiana, forty-seven cents out of every municipal dollar go for the support of public schools, but only two and three-tenths cents of every church dollar go for the support of the church schools."

The volume just issued presents also detailed recommendations by the survey staff for the betterment of conditions in the state. The two volumes that are to follow to complete the report will contain the standards and measurements developed for the purpose of the survey, and the schedules and codes that were used.

Farmers' Column

The poultry association will hold a meeting Thursday evening at 7:30 at the News office to lay plans for the annual show in December. All who are interested in the subject are invited to be present, whether members or not. A report will be made at this meeting by various members of the progress of soliciting new members of the association and the chances of obtaining county for one of the cash prizes offered by the state association to the counties securing the largest numbers of new members. Right now is a good time to join for the contest will close December 1. Here is a word from Secretary Dodge:

Poultry Breeders, there will be a meeting of the association Thursday evening the 22 at the News office and you are urged to come out and help arrange for our coming show. If you are not a member of the county association, come anyhow. You are welcome and we need you as a member. We are short at least 30 members to get in on the cash prizes that are offered by the State Federation, for the four counties that get the most new members. We are not yet in line for the booby prize of $25. Don't fail to let our county get somewhere in the winning class. Our county show will be in a little different way this season. A card will be made out for each bird telling the good points and also its defects as the judge sees it, and will be the benefit as a future reference.

Several have told me that they would join our association before the time was up. Now we have only a few more days to make our report. All memberships must reach our state secretary before December 1. Come out to our next meeting and lend a hand to make a winning number of new members and win the money. We need it to buy more coops to hold our show.

LUTE DONGE, Sec.

Oklahoma Crop Notes

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 20.—On November 16th, 1923, Oklahoma was admitted as the forty-seventh commonwealth of the United States. At that time, only a rugged and undeveloped agriculture was being practiced, but the citizens were quick to discern the golden possibilities in our virgin soils and after a few years of development the state now holds a foremost position in the Nation's most basic industry.

Corn in those days was beyond doubt the principal crop; in fact, a much larger acreage of corn was harvested in 1923 than in any recent year. Production of corn ran three times as much in that year as in 1922. Acreage and production of other crops however were only trivial as compared with present day plantings and production.

In a manner of showing the wonderful progress Oklahoma has made since Statehood, the following table is given showing acreage and production of a few principal crops for 1923 and 1922. Cotton production is found to run higher in 1923, however the boll weevil was not to be feared then as now, and also 1923 was an exceptional year for cotton. The 1923 cotton production is representative of our average yield:

	Acreage	Production
CORN 1923	4,650,000	118,265,000
1922	3,200,000	41,800,000
Wheat 1923	950,000	8,631,000
1922	3,397,000	37,347,000
Oats 1923	418,000	6,270,000
1922	1,125,000	23,063,000
Barley 1923	35,000	654,000
1922	123,000	2,884,000
Rye 1923	2,300	28,000
1922	29,000	345,000
Potatoes 1923	28,000	1,960,000
1922	49,000	2,240,000
Cotton 1923	2,196,000	862,000
1922	2,982,000	542,734

On November 16th this year, Oklahoma was 16 years of age. In such a short length of time, observe the proud positions the state has risen to among the older states of the nation:

Ranks 2nd in population; ranks 18th in the value of all farm property; out-ranks 34 other states in the value of land alone; ranks 14th in the value of all crops; ranks 9th in the total acreage of all crops; produces more broom corn than all other states combined. Oklahoma out-ranks 32 other states in 1922 in the production of corn; 42 states in winter wheat; 34 states in barley; 35 states in oats; 22 states in timothy hay; 4 states in wild hay; 35 states in sweet potatoes; 40 states in cotton and 45 states in grain sorghums.

Produce Market Bulletin

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—The butter market opened today with a very firm undertone, and market quotations reflect this condition. There is a good demand from all sources and fall and winter dairying should prove thoroughly profitable. Some foreign butter is arriving, but so far the quantity is not large enough to affect market quotations adversely.

There is a very light supply of fresh eggs coming to the markets at this time, and prices for good stock are on a very firm basis.

Storage eggs are moving freely, although wholesale values are generally below cost, plus carrying charges, storage, insurance, and interest, and continued heavy consumption is necessary to clear the present supply before the fresh production increases.

There is every evidence of a large crop of poultry and heavy receipts of both live and dressed poultry confirm this view.

MONARCHISTS PIN HOPES TO THESE

The ex-Kaiser, the former crown prince and Prince Wilhelm.

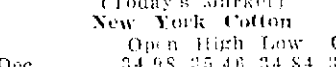

German monarchists live in hope that some day one of these three will reign in Berlin as emperor of all Germany. The ex-kaiser or the ex-crown prince will reign if the monarchy is restored soon. If not the latter's eldest son, Prince Wilhelm, is regarded as the monarchists' best hope.

ture, in its report of storage holdings November 1, shows the following stocks of poultry:

1923—37,608,000 lbs.
1922—20,240,000 lbs.
Excess—6,768,000 lbs.

The wholesale seedling prices on both live and dressed stock are noticeably lower than at this time last year.

Does the nineteenth amendment have anything to say against nagging?

When Mrs. Spilvers was elected president of the Venusian club, some of the sister members didn't come out and say that she elected her but that she engineered and they wouldn't have the office that way.

It is often the case that husband and wife come near separation over the money her last husband left her.

"ONLY A SHOP GIRL" HAS REMARKABLE HISTORY

The second of the old stage successes of Charles E. Blaney to be produced for the screen is "Only a Shop Girl," which was first staged in New York twenty-five years ago, and which is still running, on the road in various parts of the country.

The seemingly endless popularity of this, and other Blaney dramas, is easily accounted for by the fact that they were all true to life, with no impossible situations and none of the bizarre effects of the present day problem plays and pictures. Blaney's plays offered clean, wholesome entertainment and at the same time contained thrills and action enough to satisfy the most violent of the gallery gods.

"Only a Shop Girl" is a perfectly balanced picture, played by a cast of nine stars who were hand-picked for their parts.

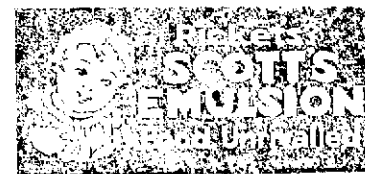

The element of mystery which runs through the seven reels is sustained to the end and the action runs the gamut of human emotions, laughter, tears, beauty, ugliness, poverty, riches, love and hate.

There is a fine scene which possesses all the elements of reality except the actual noise made by the fire apparatus.

The producers have announced that the closing scene of the picture is the best surprise ending that has ever been made.

Apparatus has been designed to enable decorative crews to breathe fresh air from the air brake tanks while passing through long gas or smoke filled tunnels.

HOMELY SOUTHERN SPIRIT IN "MY OLD KENTUCKY HOME"

A story of the homely Southern sentiment of mother love with all the magnificence and grandeur as only the Southern spirit can be portrayed is seen in "My Old Kentucky Home," one of the big motion pictures of the year from an original story by Anthony Paul Kelly. The picture abounds in thrills, sparkling romance and is of the melodramatic type. It is said to be the South what "Way Down East" is to New England.

A young man, son of a proud and haughty Southern widow, is finally released from Sing Sing where he has done a term, having been railroaded. Upon hearing the strains of "My Old Kentucky Home" he becomes homesick.

His mother is overwhelmed at seeing him and while enroute to the South he meets his former sweetheart on the train. The boy's mother has entered "Dixie", her prize horse, in the derby, and in one of the wildest racing scenes ever witnessed, and "Dixie" wins and the boy and his sweetheart come into their own. Liberty today and Thursday.
